THE CHALLENGE

Sales leaders carry some of the greatest responsibilities in any organization. They must hit sales targets with little direct control over the outcomes, manage strong personalities, and lead directives from senior leadership.

Unfortunately, in many organizations, emerging sales managers receive little or no training before taking on the job.

67.5% of sales leaders don't have experience leading remote teams.*

40% of sales leaders don't have the skills or training needed to coach their teams.*

Investing in sales leader growth is one of the most impactful organizational investments. While a powerful and effective sales leader offers mounting benefits, an ineffective sales leader takes an even greater toll on a company, resulting in stalled or lost deals, expensive turnover of staff, and missed revenue goals.

THE SOLUTION:

Real coaching sessions on real deals to ensure real results!

Sales Leader Growth Series was designed for organizations that are:

- Experiencing a talent gap in leadership due to high growth or high turnover.
- Hitting a sales plateau and struggling to hit revenue targets for growth.
- Concerned about consistency in management across teams.
- Looking to invest in training and performance of emerging sales managers.

In this series, your sales managers learn Sandler's best practices for sales leadership, garnering the knowledge of Sandler's five-decades-long history empowering organizations across every industry.

We empower your sales leaders with the behaviors, attitudes, and techniques needed for success, challenging them to use these strategies and tactics in real coaching sessions on real deals, ensuring real results.

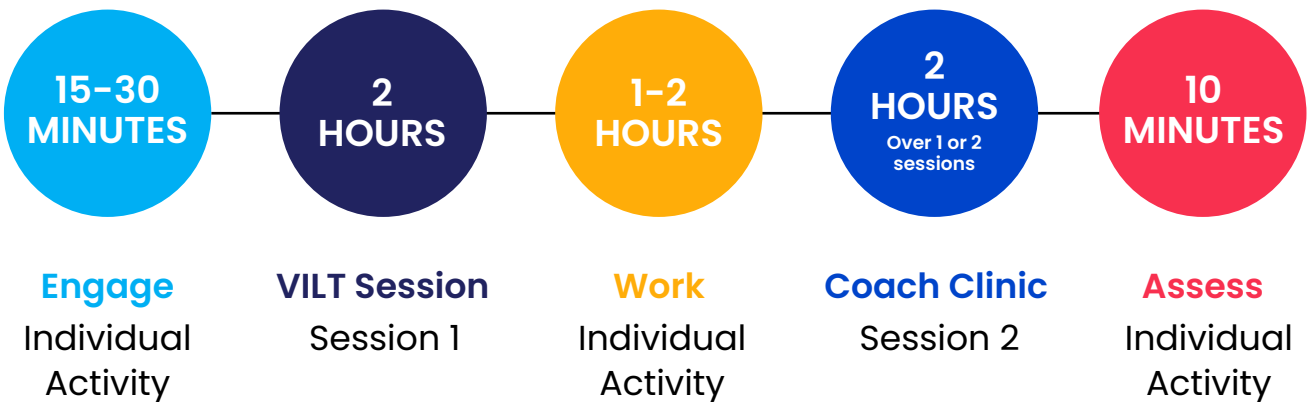

PROGRAM DESIGN & DELIVERY

Virtual Instructor-Led Training

The Sales Leader Growth Series is a customizable program with nine different courses to select from for a comprehensive growth plan.

Each of the nine courses includes four hours of virtual instructor-led training (VILT) with Sandler coaches over two or three sessions.

Tools & Resources

Sandler utilizes practical tools and job aids to ensure your leaders execute the behaviors, attitudes, and techniques.

Pre-Call Planner

Plan your call strategy to drive towards outcomes in sales meetings.

Pursuit Navigator

Identify the best opportunities to pursue using defined criteria.

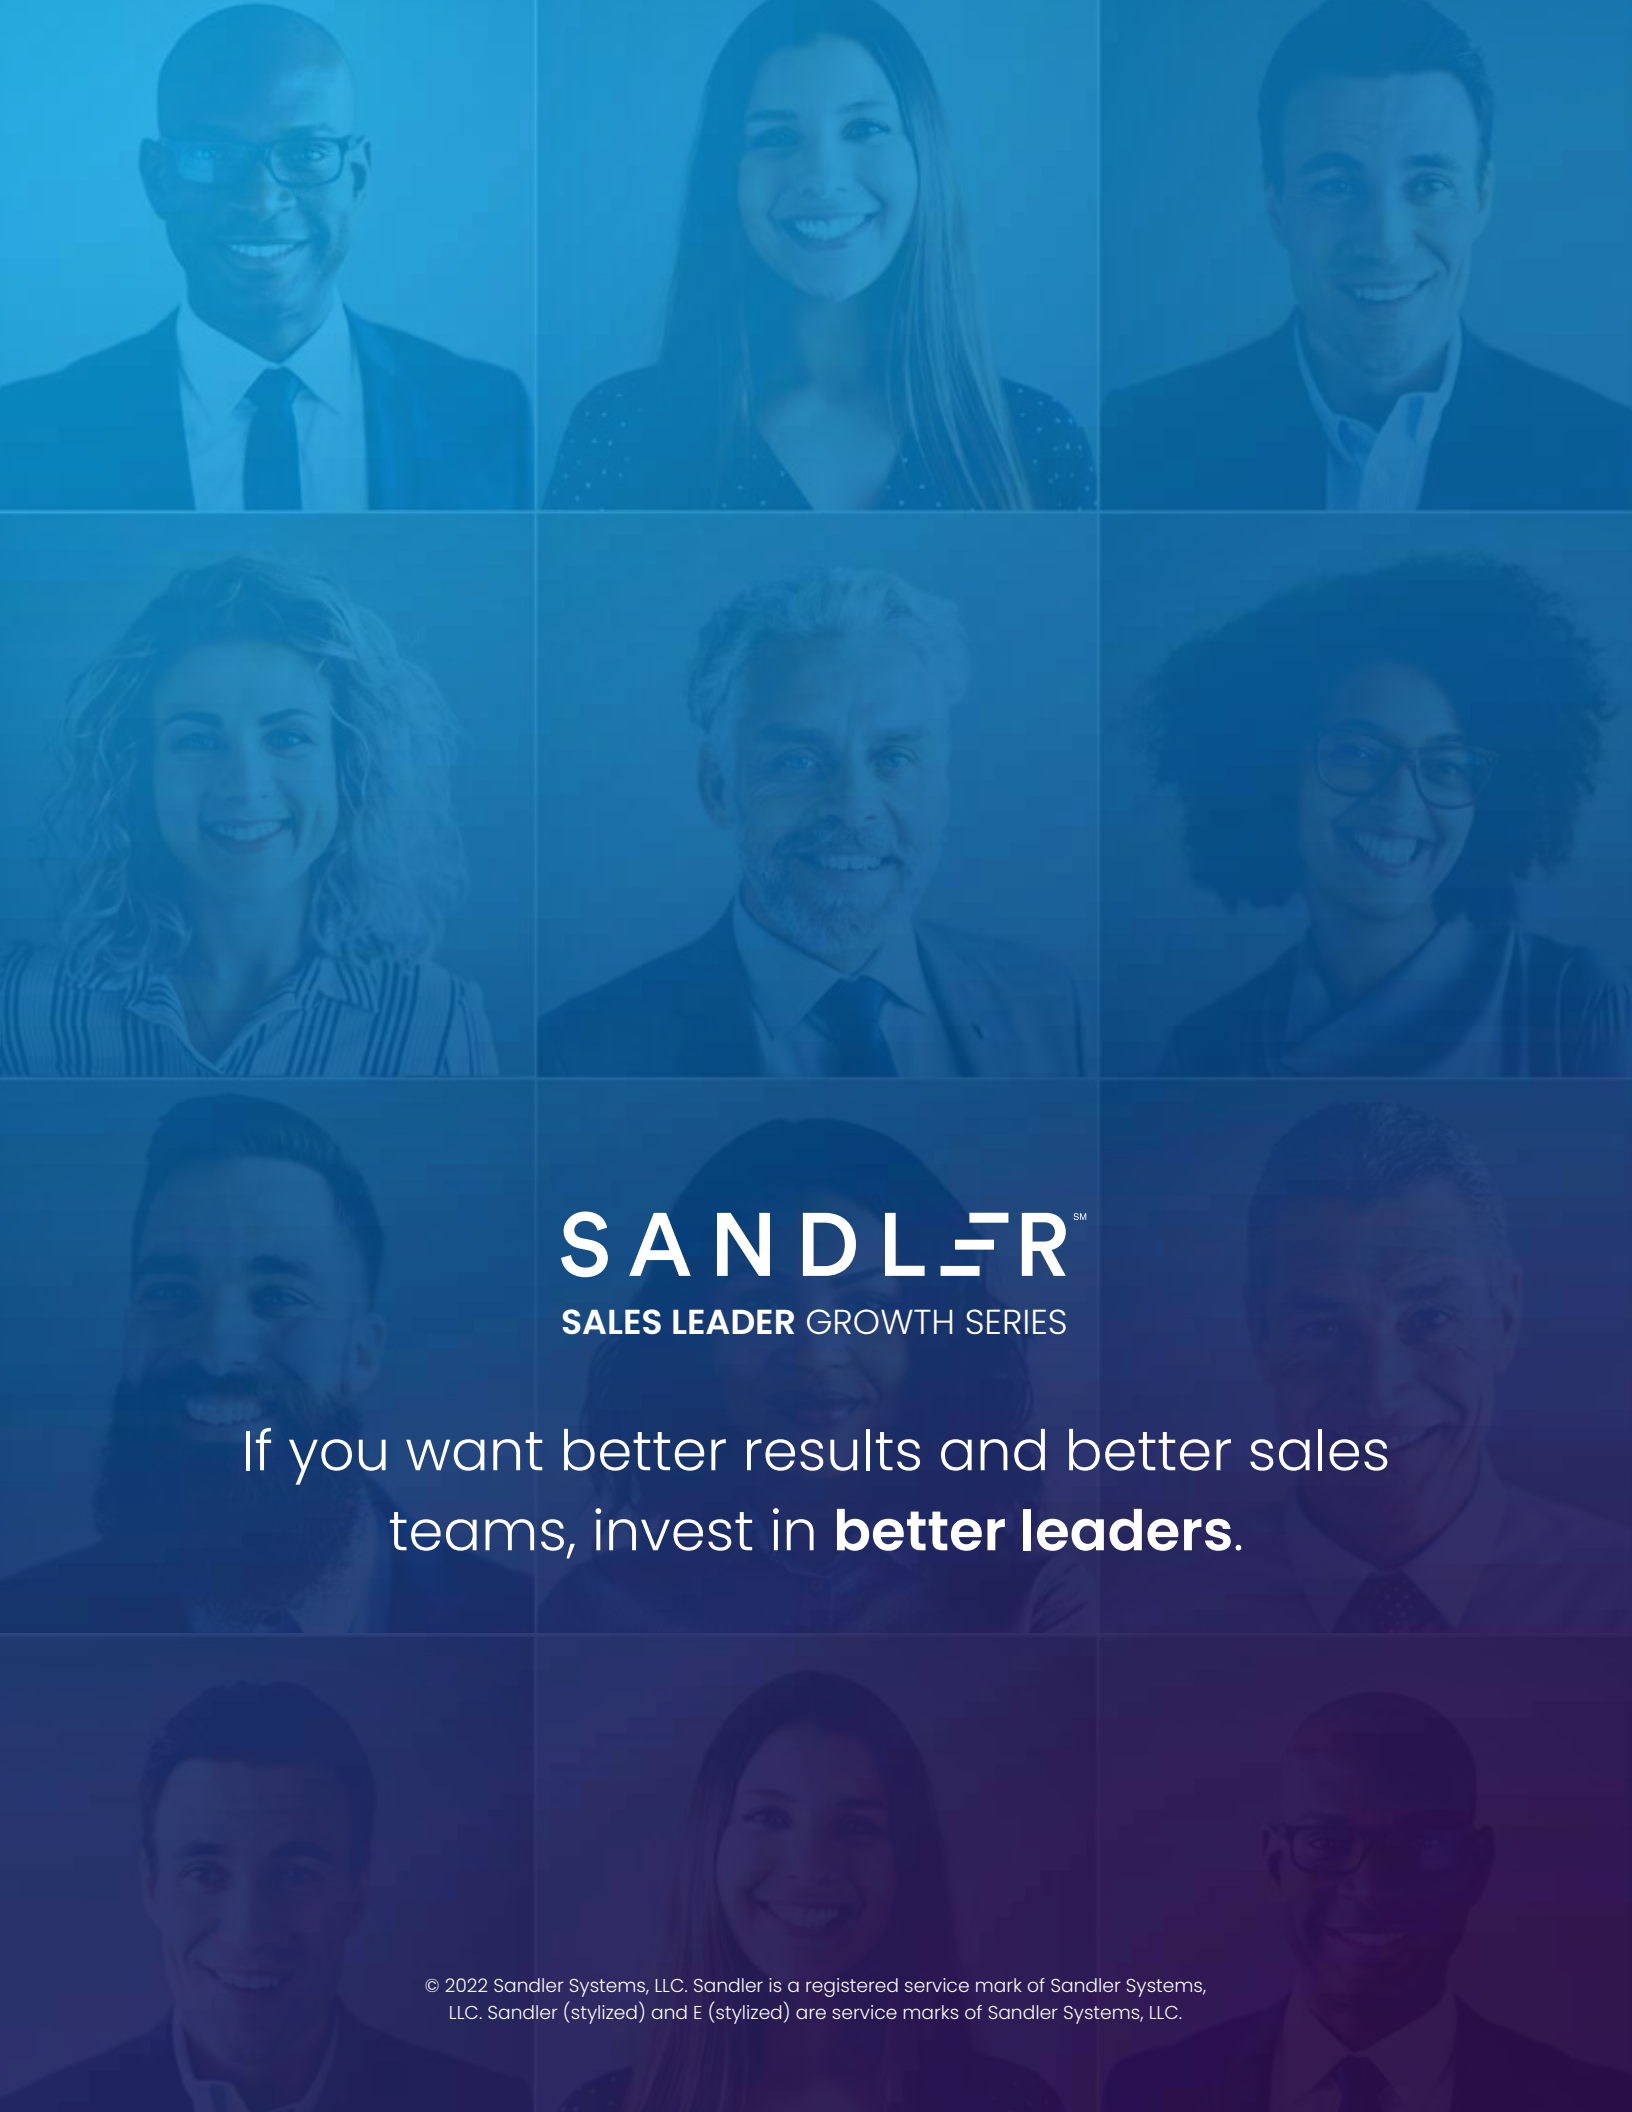

Operating Framework

Build a framework that aligns to your success measures and drives accountability.

We designed three different learning paths with your goals in mind. Each one requires the Coach to Success course with its essential sales leadership coaching skills. Our team will work with you to customize the right path to reach your goals.
